Love in all things

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON:

Your merciful love, O God,
we have received in the midst of your temple.
Your praise, O God, like your name,
reaches the ends of the earth;
your right hand is filled with saving justice.

FIRST READING: Zechariah 9:9-10

RESPONSORIAL PSALM:

I will praise your name for ever, my king and my God.

SECOND READING: Romans 8:9,11-13

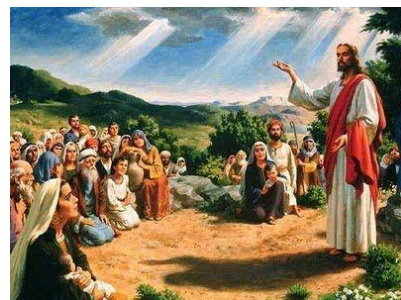

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION:

Alleluia, alleluia!
Blessed are you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth;
you have revealed to little ones the mysteries of the kingdom.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL: Matthew 11:25-30

COMMUNION ANTIPHON:

Taste and see that the Lord is good;
blessed the man who seeks refuge in him.

REFLECTION: Jesus extends an invitation to all who are burdened and weary to come to him for rest, offering solace and relief to those who seek refuge in him. He describes himself as gentle and humble in heart, portraying his compassionate and approachable nature that provides comfort and support to those who come to him. When Jesus invites his disciples to take his yoke upon themselves and learn from him, he illustrates the importance of being his student, growing in knowledge, and finding guidance and rest in him. He assures his followers that his yoke is easy and his burden is light, suggesting that the path of discipleship with him is not burdensome but rather filled with grace and empowerment.

A special thank you to 'His Grace', Patrick O'Reagan and all the clergy for their attendance and celebration of the Mass. The 60th Jubilee celebration of the Annunciation Church and 160 years of the Parish was a day filled with mass and special festivities. Celebrated by our Archbishop and our Clergy, attended by Members of local Parliament and our wonderful Community!

New Projector

Dear Parishioners, Recently, at the invitation of James Stevens our local Federal MP for Sturt, we were successful in our application to secure funds under the Stronger Communities Programme (SCP). This was an opportunity for James to work with our community and to contribute to our long term vibrancy and viability. Under the SCP grant we were able to secure 50% of the cost of the supply and install of the Church projector which enabled us to replace the ageing and no longer serviceable older unit. We were grateful for James' invitation to participate and delighted that we were successful and that the projector installation is now complete. Thanks James once again.

Our Lady Of Fatima Statue

We are inviting parishioners to have the Statue of Our Lady of Fatima in their homes for a week at a time until Sunday 9th of October. Please call the Parish office to book in your preferred date.

commendable. We are definitely going to miss her but God has his own plans for her. Let us thank her for everything she has done for our parish. On behalf of Hectorville Catholic Community, we wish her the best of luck and for her future ministry in India. Thank you again. We will be having a shared lunch after 11am mass. Please bring a plate of food to share.

~ The Curate's Corner ~

A theology of the Home

We've spent the last few weeks exploring the idea that our homes are where we prepare for our heavenly home. And so, for the next part of our study, I want to look at some of the ways they do this. The first is they marvellously capture the play of light and darkness.

There's something special about throwing the curtains open on a bright morning. As the light floods in you're reminded that you're alive and that it's good to be alive. And many of our happiest moments occur against the backdrop of a bright sunny day. Still each day comes to an end, the sun goes back home, and we're left with darkness inside the walls of our house. But for many this new part of the day can seem like it's not much different from what came before; bright lights are flicked on and we simply keep going: maybe it's making sandwiches for tomorrow's lunch, or just gathering around the glow of the TV. Yet for nearly all human history, the coming of evening was a dramatic reminder that we are surrounded by darkness. Without the glow of light made possible by electricity, people's worlds were plunged into darkness and the home became the one place where light survived. And this is why Christ describes himself as, "the light of the world," and light is a symbol of his presence. Just think of the advent wreath and the paschal candle. Christ casts out the darkness, he's the one who conquers sin and evil. And "all the darkness in the world cannot extinguish the light of a single candle."

In our lives, we will have periods flooded with light, moments that feel like the bursting forth of light into a dark room. Maybe it's the discovery of love, or finding of one's vocation, or a moment of healing. At times the love of Christ quite literally overwhelms us. But still there are times of darkness, times when it seems like no light can make it through, but in these moments, we can trust that Christ is our light. That if we have him, no amount of darkness can ever overcome us. Love by nature is meant to be shared. Like a light in the darkness, it isn't contained but rather spreads and calls others towards it. Our homes can reflect this.

Practical tips

Make candlelight a feature of your home! Maybe the next family rosary can be prayed by candlelight. This will create a tight night circle, and what draws us first closer physically will eventually makes us emotionally and spiritual closer. Or how about we find our baptismal candle and light that on the anniversary of our baptism.
